DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-15 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Toogood (US RE 36,659).

The device of Toogood reads on the structural claims of the invention including a rotatable base (90), a plurality of closed-sided tooth sockets having a substantially rectangular and generally flat bottom and four upright sides (108) and a plurality of tooth assemblies (150, 154, 156). It should be noted that the Examiner takes the position that the recessed box of Toogood has a length dimension that is greater than 2 times the width dimension and the depth of the tooth socket is greater than 1/16 inches.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5, 6, 14 and 15 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Toogood.

Art Unit: 3725

In the event applicant disagrees with the rejection above, these claims do not appear to contain any additional features, which in combination with the features to any claim to which they refer, add anything novel. As such, it would have been an obvious design choice to one having ordinary skill in the art to add any of the claimed features to the prior art device.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 05/19/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to Applicant's remarks that Toogood fails to teach the cutting element does not fit closely adjacent each of the raised sides, the Examiner disagrees. It should be noted that limitation "closely adjacent" is relative and does not provide a specific distance; therefore, the Examiner takes the position that the cutting element of Toogood is "closely adjacent" each of the raised sides. Further, the closed -sided pocket of Toogood will provide resistance (torque and shear) during rotation of the cutting device. For the reasons set for above, this Office Action is Final.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
